Product Name Change Notification

Please be informed that effective May 1st, 2014, the nCloudX product name has been changed to NCX. Existing customers will be able to utilize all new versions and revisions of NCX.

The entire nCloudX feature set is supported by NCX. In addition, NCX supports various advanced use-cases such as branch office automation, data center interconnect, MPLS L2 VPN and L3 VPN orchestration along with support for newer vendor and device models.

All customer support agreements and purchase agreements will continue to be honored with the same terms except the product name change will be NCX.

For further clarifications, please feel free to contact support@anutanetworks.com
